

Taft's Minneapolis Public Affairs Strategies Group

THE VALUE WE BRING

Taft's Public Affairs Strategies Group (PASG) is led by Sonnie Elliott and Jeremy Estenson. They bring decades of experience working with clients, lawmakers, elected officials, key staff, and coalitions at the local, state, and federal level.

EXPERIENCE

Our multidisciplinary government relations team represents corporations, small and medium-sized companies, nonprofit organizations, and associations with matters before federal, state, and local legislative and executive branches of government. We design and implement successful advocacy strategies ranging from complex, federal, multi-year authorizations in Congress to municipal policy development.

Our diverse team's decades of experience was gained by working with federal and state legislatures, federal, state and local administrations, elected senior policy advisors, senior Congressional committee staff, and elected and appointed state positions – as well as – through leadership roles on campaign and election committees.
